

October 2006 – Indiana National and State Register Listings

S. Ceylon Covered Bridge, Adams Co. IN.

ADAMS COUNTY

Ceylon Covered Bridge

CR 900 S over Wabash River
Ceylon vicinity

This 1879 Howe truss bridge was rated “outstanding” in the 1995 Indiana Historic Sites and Structures Inventory for Adams County. It has statewide significance since the resource is both rare and significant within surviving wooden bridges in the state.

HENDRICKS COUNTY

Amo THI & E Interurban Depot/Substation

4985 Railroad Street

Amo

The Amo Depot was rated “outstanding” in the 1989 Hendricks County Interim Report. One of two of its kind in the county, the depot played a critical role in the local transportation needs in the early 20th century. Architecturally, the building is significant as a then-new building type (electric power substation/depot).

JENNINGS COUNTY

Annadale

502 Jennings Street

North Vernon

This intact and well-detailed example of Arts & Crafts architecture was rated “outstanding” in the 1989 Jennings County Interim Report. The house is a locally outstanding representative of its style, as seen in its large, two story front porch, simple exterior detailing, and intact interior plan and woodwork.

State Street Historic District

Roughly bounded by Chestnut, Jackson,
Jefferson, State Streets
North Vernon

The State Street area is noteworthy in that it includes the houses of the community's leaders at the turn of the century, and specifically, the long-time home of town founder Hagerman Tripp. Additionally, the district includes a locally outstanding collection of high-style Queen Anne, Craftsman, and vernacular housing.

MARSHALL COUNTY

Jacoby Church and Cemetery

King Road south of 8A Road
Plymouth vicinity

In 1990, the Marshall County Interim Report identified Jacoby Church and its associated cemetery, and rated them “notable.” The church and its cemetery are among the most visible reminders of the settlement era of the county, and the church is also architecturally outstanding as an example of a simple Greek Revival rural church.

MONROE COUNTY

Hinkle Garton Farmstead

2920 East 10th Street
Bloomington

The farmstead is significant because it represents one of few agricultural properties within the city of Bloomington. Also, the property represents shifting trends in agriculture. The main house is a notable example of a Queen Anne cottage.

PORTER COUNTY

Dune Acres Clubhouse

Clubhouse Drive

Dune Acres

This building served as a meeting place for admirers of the Indiana Dunes landscape, as well for local social events. Architecturally the building is significant as an example of 20th century rustic log construction, and for the architectural influences surrounding its place in time.

William McCallum House

507 E. Lincolnway

Valparaiso

Field surveyors rated this house “notable” in the 1991 Porter County Interim Report. It is architecturally significant as a good example of Italianate architecture in Valparaiso.
